First Things First

Why upload pictures and events

You must understand these before you start!

If you don't want to get confused, you need to know the building blocks of OOPS. The next few sections will explain each of these in a way that you can understand.

Who can see your picture?

Everyone! OOPS is a website for people who wants to share their pictures to all around the world. But if you have some pictures do not want to share to everyone, you can choose 'private' and then only you can see it.

Can I submit picture without events?

Sorry you cannot. Since OOPS is a social network based on map, If you do not submit your events with pictures, we cannot know where did you take those charming works.

Now that you know how it works, it's time to start networking!
